

Nineteen Health Sciences students were recognized as "Reggies" during the 16th Annual Academic Excellence Awards ceremony, sponsored by State Farm Insurance, on Sunday, November 1, 2015. The following Health Sciences students were recognized for their achievements:

Environmental Health

- Andy Mills (Football)
- Kelsey Turczyn (Softball)
- Ashley Rosch (Volleyball)

Health Education/Community Health Education

- Dennis Colon (Baseball) Good Neighbor Award
- Will Headean (Baseball)
- Clint Stroud (Baseball)
- Mike Banks (Baseball)
- Danci Cha (Gymnastics)
- Chase Pavelonis (Men's Track & Field/Cross Country)
- Regan Romshek (Softball) *Female Athlete of the Year Nominee *Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year Nominee
- Tara Gidaszewski (Swimming & Diving)
- Yvette Kruk (Swimming & Diving)
- Karley Licking (Swimming & Diving)
- Kim Christensen (Women's Track & Field/Cross Country)
- Jenna Combs (Women's Track & Field/Cross Country)
- Danielle Donahue (Volleyball)

Health Information Management

- Abby Kachanuk (Women's Track & Field/Cross Country) Dr. Jim Johnson Phoenix Award

Medical Laboratory Science

- Kevin Dolan (Men's Track & Field/Cross Country)

Safety

- Jeff Bajema (Men's Track & Field/Cross Country)

*The Athlete of the Year Award is presented to a male and female student-athlete who have gained nation, conference or regional recognition for their athletic accomplishments over the past competition season while displaying commitment and high character.

The Dr. Jim Johnson Phoenix Award is presented to a student-athlete who has overcome academic challenges and has made consistent academic progress throughout their career.

The Good Neighbor Award is presented to a student-athlete who has demonstrated extraordinary commitment to excellence in academics, service to others and personal conduct. The individual also volunteers to assist fellow student-athletes in their endeavors to achieve their academic goals.

*The Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year award is presented to a female student-athlete who has completed 60 hours and has been an active member of a team during the previous two seasons. The student-athlete must also have a cumulative grade-point average (GPA) of at least 3.0.